Your Career in Academic Medicine Starts Now. Learn How.
Consider a career in academic medicine, and help train up the next generation of physicians. This NO-COST one-day conference includes nine different workshops on topics including:

- Diversity & Inclusion in the Academic Medicine Workforce
- Academic Medicine Career Roles
- Financing an Academic Medicine Career
- Research, Scholarship, and Careers in Academic Medicine

The conference is open to all but aims to help diverse (women, underrepresented minorities, and LGBTQ) medical students, residents, fellows, and doctoral students to:

- Discover academic medicine careers which align with personal and professional interests
- Explore an array of academic medicine career paths and opportunities
- Create and improve their academic medicine portfolio
- Grow their network among academic medicine colleagues and role models

The Academic Medicine Career Development Conference for Diverse Medicine Students and Residents is a development of Building the Next Generation of Academic Physicians (BNGAP) Initiative. BNGAP is a national organization dedicated to increasing diverse medical student and resident awareness of, interest in, and preparedness for an academic medicine career. bngap.org

The conference is sponsored by Indiana University School of Medicine Faculty Affairs, Professional Development, and Diversity. faculty.medicine.iu.edu
